FacebookTwitterGoogle+Pinterest The strike in India, Nepal, and Afghanistan continues to be global concern. It has been going on for nearly two months now. It is evident that most of the countries do not have any information on the reason behind the strike and on the other hand, they are not against it. There are conflicting feelings on the issue. The Armed forces of all the countries including India, Nepal, and Afghanistan have been on strike. The reason behind the strike is the demands of the Afghan government for the release of all the prisoners and it has been a demand for the last four years. The strike started on July 17th, 2009 and after four months it has not stopped. The leaders and the general public of the countries are divided on the issue. For the public of Afghanistan the striking soldiers is a source of pride. While for the public of India and Nepal it is a matter of concern. The strike has been going on for nearly two months now, but there are very little updates on the reason behind the strike. It is evident that most of the countries do not have any information on the reason behind the strike. But the general public of the countries including Afghanistan, India, and Nepal are not against it. There are conflicting feelings on the issue. The public of India and Nepal are showing reservations against it, but they are not against the armed forces of their own country. The strike is a matter of concern for the leaders and the general public of India and Nepal. The leaders of India and Nepal are not against the strike as it is the right of a country to self-defend. But if they would have been aware of the conditions in Afghanistan, they could have found a peaceful solution to the issue. But it is a case of political agenda. There are rumors that the strike of India and Nepal has become a strategy to grab the vital trade routes of Afghanistan, especially to Central Asia and China. The public of India and Nepal are divided on the issue. But the public of India are not surprised that the strike has been going on for almost two months. The public of Nepal has been expecting this. They have been saying this that the strike has already happened. There are lots of theories about the issue, the main one being that the issue is being exploited by the neighboring countries, especially Pakistan and China. The leaders of the Indian and Nepal armed forces say 2d92ce491b
