1. Could anyone please help me about this? A: You have to set the VendorID to 0x0A15 (an earlier example could be found here) as shown in the following picture. You can find the GUID/ID (VendorID) and the layout of the system via Windows Device Manager under the "Computer Management" tab. Then you can get the guid from the VendorID via driverinstaller.com as mentioned here. Q: Setting default search method for RESTful route i have an ASP.NET MVC application. And i've got some route that looks like this: routes.MapRoute(name: "MyRoute", url: "{controller}/{action}/{id}", defaults: new { controller = "Home", action = "Index", id = UrlParameter.Optional }); What i want to do is to add some default search method to this route. For example: /home/search When i try to go to this route, it won't be found, because is behind /home/ But if i will change the order of the route like this: f3e1b3768e
