Microphthalmia-associated transcription factor (MITF) is a master transcriptional regulator in development, including melanocyte development. However, the role of MITF in human melanogenesis has not been fully elucidated. We analyzed the effects of MITF knockdown by siRNA on melanogenesis in cultured melanocytes. We also evaluated the role of aMITF in melanogenesis in vivo using MITF knockout (MITF^{-/-}) mice. MITF expression was gradually decreased from early to late stages of melanogenesis. MITF knockdown resulted in down-regulation of melanogenesis-related protein expression and tyrosinase activity, suggesting that MITF is essential for melanogenesis in human epidermal melanocytes. Melanin content was significantly lower in MITF^{-/-} mice than in wild-type mice. Thus, MITF may be involved in the regulation of melanogenesis in epidermal melanocytes in vivo.Q: Run a server side server side application on Browser control in C#? I want to create a server side server side application on a web browser control. I am currently using C# and ASP.Net. A: Use Server.MapPath to get the absolute path of a file, then call IHTMLDocument2.execCommand with that path. This will get you started: string s = Server.MapPath("~/docs/myfile.txt"); IHTMLDocument2 doc = (IHTMLDocument2)webBrowser.Document; doc.execCommand("open", false, s); 2d92ce491b
