Portable HideWin Crack + Keygen Full Version

HideWin is a light-weight, portable application designed to hide the windows that are not in use. Its main goal is to save desktop space and to give you more room for your personal files, data, and applications. Whenever you open or close an application, the name of the window is automatically added to or removed from the list of active windows. You can quickly and easily hide an item or all of them just by pressing the right combination of shortcuts. This tool gives you more visibility in the taskbar and as such, it also puts an end to the `Where's my Windows` problems. ...but NO INSTRUCTIONS! WTH? You install the program... and NO INSTRUCTIONS!?! The program isn't that good in my opinion... No Help? Really? No help under options? No instructions? ...no, no, NO! ...I will give this one just ONE STAR! Why no instructions, or even how to access an options menu? You bought a program, and it came with no instructions or support? Mind you, after I installed it I figured out pretty much all I had to do was press "alt" and my desktopspace was being used as intended. (this is about as easy as it gets, just read the instructions in the program's folder). It's been a few years, but I recall "portable hidewin" to be a bit of a joke back in the day. (but the world has changed). The little I remember of it, is that there was no way to access the features, no way to uninstall it, and in general it was pretty useless. If I remember correctly, the only thing you could do was hide the windows. I agree with the other reviews. The program is fairly decent, but it's not very easy to use. Instead of being able to access the options without access to the keyboard, they've made the shortcut so you need to press the right combination of buttons. It's a tiny program, doesn't really do a whole lot, but it does what it's supposed to do. (I tested the program on Windows 7. It is compatible with Windows 8) Yes, it's a piece of junk! Install it, just to find out, that it's not even a half-decent images for your favorite websites. Hide or show new websites on hover or double click. Configure custom layout for the taskbar. Informative screenshots and video demos. Portable HideWin is a lightweight application designed to clean up your taskbar and desktop by hiding the windows that are not in use. If you value desktop space, this tool is designed to help you manage the opened program windows. As the name clearly states, this utility is portable and can be used from any location including a removable storage device. This enables you to easily hide the windows without having to go through a software installation. Once started, the utility can be accessed from the tray icon in order to view a list of all the active windows and choose the one that you want to hide. Each window is automatically associated with a keyboard combination which makes it easier to hide a specific item. When you open or close an application, the name of the window is automatically added or removed to the list. Although the apps launched before starting the tool are apparently in a random order, all the new ones are added to the list in chronological order which makes them easier to find. The shortcuts use the Alt key in combination with a letter which limits the number of active windows. Even though the app creates associations such as Alt+[or Alt+/, they were not usable during our tests. However, you can still use the tray context menu to hide these windows. The shortcut limitation can be a problem not only for the users that have multiple windows but also for the ones that frequently close and open programs. Since the app assigns a different shortcut
