ABOUT US

Slade Street Tactical, which is a Placentia, California-based family business, began its operations by selling on multiple firearm-friendly auction sites. It is dedicated to providing top-notch gun accessories, including tactical shotgun stocks and magazines, at a reasonable price. Its aim is to supply quality products with on-time and inexpensive shipping.

The Mossberg Heat Shield is designed to fit seamlessly with the Maverick 88. Typically crafted from durable materials like steel, they are built to endure rugged use. Their vented design promotes heat dissipation, ensuring the barrel cools efficiently after firing. Most models come in a black matte finish, adding a sleek, tactical appearance that pairs well with the Maverick 88's robust design.
