Patient Information

At Medicross Clinic and Urgent Care, we know that the most effective medical care is customized to each patient's individual needs. This is why we ask about your medical history, current condition, allergies, insurance policy, and any other relevant information before your initial consultation. Once we have received the needed information, we can move onto your first appointment and have one of our qualified team members diagnose your symptoms. This allows us to target the root cause of your pain instead of just lessening the symptoms. We will stick with you throughout the treatment process, helping you make any adjustments or follow-up visits as necessary.
