Tactical Shotgun Stocks change control, comfort, and accuracy for today's shooters. Constructed from reinforced polymer and aircraft-grade aluminum, adjustable length of pull in addition to adjustable cheek risers and non-slip recoil pads are designed for a customized fit and enable faster followup shots to mitigate muzzle rise.

Quick detachment sling mounts, accessory mounts, and other storage compartments add utility within the field. Easy to install, and durable under the most severe conditions, tactical stocks are an excellent upgrade for law enforcement, home defense, and competitive shots seeking reliable ergonomics.

A black and white photograph of a long-barreled rifle, possibly a sniper rifle, is positioned diagonally across the frame. The rifle has a large, rectangular magazine attached to the bottom. The barrel is long and extends towards the top right corner. The rifle is set against a plain white background.
